100 Years

AND EVERY ONE COUNTS

One hundred years ago, in 1918, our beloved high school was founded. One hundred years later, the building is still standing, stronger than ever. The walls tall and secure. The foundation solid and lasting. Like everything, it's gone through some rough times, but it has not fallen. It has proven its resilience.

A century. Imagine generations of student bodies roaming the same halls you wander down today, sitting in the same classrooms, looking and waving through the same windows. Granted, many different classrooms have been added to the school throughout the years, but that is because it is not only still standing, it's growing. We have not only remained standing--we're growing.

Many of you might have parents, grandparents, great grandparents, who have stood where you are today. Things have drastically changed since then--technology, society, industry--everything. It's amazing how transformations like these impact the people and change them along with it. However, it's strange to think that despite all these years, some things never change. We have teachers and staff who have contributed greatly in this school for over thirty years. We still carry similar traditions. What will WHS be like in another century?

Through sleepless nights and tiresome days, we and past students have all made an effort in some way or another to contribute to this community, our school, and our peers. That alone has created and still creates the school's ambitious and aspiring atmosphere. Here we are: we have a whole life ahead of us, as did they. We've gone so far; there's no turning away, no going back. We are Warriors, and we as a community have shaped where we are now. There will be hard times, but times like those are simply opportunities to prove to yourself and others that your inner Warrior never dies!

"Warrenton High School," a narrator's voice might as well announce, "One-hundred years and still standing!"

"Warrenton High School," a relieved student may say, "Four years in this place, and we're still standing!"

Q&A

-Gabby Brinkman, 12

How long has your family lived in the area?

"My great grandmother graduated in one of the first classes at WHS!"

Do you feel a connection to the community or school?

"I have a bunch of family here so I do feel a connection to the community because it's all I've ever known. I'm a fourth generation graduate."

A Rich History of Community Support

Every school has a story to tell. The idea and location of Warrenton High School has changed over the years but despite this there is the continuation of a closely knit community. That's our story.

The old Warrenton Grade School was finished in 1916. That building also housed the first high school until 1948. But the first high school class graduated in 1918 with 5 students.

In 1946 the school board was graced with an influx of high school students at the Warrenton Grade School Building. They had to make a decision about whether to build a high school in Warrenton or ship students out to other high schools in the county. At that time, the Warrenton community was in the midst of a thriving business boom. These were the years immediately following WWII and there was infrastructure--like the airport--still operated by the Navy. The Board viewed the future of Warrenton with a lot of hope and thought the area would likely be the site of more industrial development. The community joined together and passed a school bond for $120,000 in 1947 and ground was broken on a new high school building. This was followed in 1953 with another bond for $63,000 passed for improvements to the school. In 1962 the Board looked to the future and asked for an additional $44,000, which was passed by the community. Finally, a bond to cover the cost of adding a cafeteria to the school was passed in 1972.

The school as it stands now was renovated again in 2000 with bond money. But more changes are planned.

Gone are the days of HomeEc for girls and Wood Shop for boys. Although some of the traditional classes are gone, today, students can choose to take 21st century classes. In fact, the 2017 CTE Revitalization Grant for $436,286 will help bring Career-Technical courses back to WHS. The grant will provide funds to build a new building, provide funding for a new CTE teacher and summer programs for middle and high school students. The grant will help to expand the current STEM program to a manufacturing program. The skills gained at the new technology center will provide students with career connected learning, enabling them to prepare for post high school careers, schooling and/or training.

Despite changes over the years, WHS endures, largely due to the support of the Warrenton community and a dedicated School Board.

|| We didn't have a cafeteria, so kids brought their own lunches (or else walked to the grade school for a hot lunch) and sat in the hallways to eat. Sometimes groups would bring a camp stove and make hot food to sell. ||

Student Life Then

Other than fashion, these pictures suggest that not too much has changed over the years!

What does it mean to be a "teenager"?

Seventy years ago, teenagers didn't exist (at least nobody called them that—they were called "our future workforce"). You went to bed one day a child and woke the next morning an adult. But by the end of WWII, the idea of adolescence had evolved from a few years spent getting ready for a life as a coal miner or a lawyer into the Best Years of Your Life. Then, in 1945, the New York Times published an article defining this bizarre new word—"teenage"—and the concept became a part of the public consciousness—and part of high school culture.

Born of a sudden excess of leisure time, the teenager was a thing new to the American landscape. If for some they were an object of anxiety, this had everything to do with the fact that teenagers defined themselves in opposition to the parent generation. Rebellion was a part of being a teenager.

This concept has continued into 2018. What has changed is how students express their opposition. Now it is about fitting into your peer group as measured by how many online followers you collect. But before the rise of social media, it was about standing out from the crowd.

Feeding the SOLE

The reign of the teenager — and teen fashion — didn't truly begin until the 1950s, when rock and roll first flooded our radio waves. High schoolers started to express their new influential status in their clothing, including their shoes. Shoes are able to give others a basic idea of who we are as an individual. Interestingly, one style seems to transcend the decades: Converse (though they now come in lots more colors!). So check out the fresh kicks above—and check out other ways students express their individuality, including through their pets, their jobs, and their activities.

HALLWAY DECORATIONS

This yearly contest kicks off the week.

Mythologized in film and hyped in real life year after year, Homecoming is an American tradition. Homecoming got its start on college campuses as a fall celebration of the first football game of the season, for which alumni would return to their alma maters. It soon spread throughout the country and into high schools in the early part of the 20th century. It developed along the way a number of signatures, including the central football game, a dance in the evening, and the election of a homecoming court (in a mash-up of Old World titles and democratic processes). Many schools—including WHS—ramp up the excitement by dedicating an entire week to homecoming. For WHS in recent years, the excitement begins with decorating the hallways. The winner this year was the Sophomore class, who used Lisa Morrill's Photoshop skills to create framed portraits of WHS teachers represented as historical figures who might have lined the walls of a medieval castle (find examples of Lisa's work on the staff page).

A Community of Warriors

When most people think about going to a football game they never think about the things that go on behind it: the face paint/ costumes, the support, the pep band, the screams, the promises made, and being with friends, family, and the community. When asked what her favorite part of the homecoming football game was, Noel O'Bryan responded with a story about how her boyfriend Michael Verley gave her a promise ring. Noel reports that Michael said, "You know I love you and I'll be here through the bad and the good times." Logan Fischer said that his favorite part of home games was seeing all the fans supporting the team. His favorite memory was just simply playing in front of the community and his family.

"Literature and writing this year has helped me see the world in different ways, almost like looking through the lens of a camera—the perspective is changed. And I've discovered that I'm really good at looking at things from different perspectives."

BLAKE LEITCH, 10

"English is the best class. Fahrenheit 451 was a marvelous book full of many lessons and Mr. West is heckingcool."

JORDAN MARTINEZ, 9

"I liked doing the Tableaux when we were reading To Kill a Mockingbird because it was fun to interact with my classmates and it made me feel like I was part of the story."

English

Why does English count so much?

Sure . . . every class counts. But given that the majority of us have been speaking, reading, writing, and thinking English for many years now, why does the State of Oregon require us to take 4 years of English in high school?

Another way of posing this question is, "What is the purpose of English Studies?" This is one of the questions that English 4 students debated this year. One answer--fostering critical literacy at a time when bumper stickers and memes are considered more powerful than novels--can be explained in the picture of a WHS hallway at left. Although Gandhi is often quoted as saying this, what he really said was, "If we could change ourselves, the tendencies in the world would also change. As a man changes his own nature, so does the attitude of the world change towards him." In a world where thoughts are only valued if they can be stated in 140 characters or less, maybe critical thought does require 4 years of fostering.

MATHEMATICS >>

Because discipline and hard work count both now and later

It is not unusual to find WHS students camped out all over the school--in the halls, in the library, in the gym, in study hall, in the cafeteria--working on their math homework. (Interestingly, you don't always observe them working on math homework in math!). Whether they are taking Algebra 1a or Calculus, most seem to recognize that putting in the time is necessary to have any hope of mastering the content.

"Math helps connect the dots between critical thinking and common sense. To me, it's fun."

Isabella Morrill, 10

STRONG FEELINGS

Most students express a love-hate relationship with math.

Caleb Sprengeler

Mr. Hackwith

Bryant Bautista

"I enjoy math because it's the rules that cover the universe."

"My favorite thing about teaching math is the 'Ah-ha' moments when a kid's face lights up and they actually understand what they're doing."

"I like math, but the concepts are hard to understand."

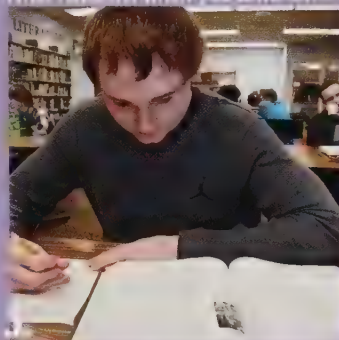

MR. BILYEU explains how to work a problem to Lars Chruh.

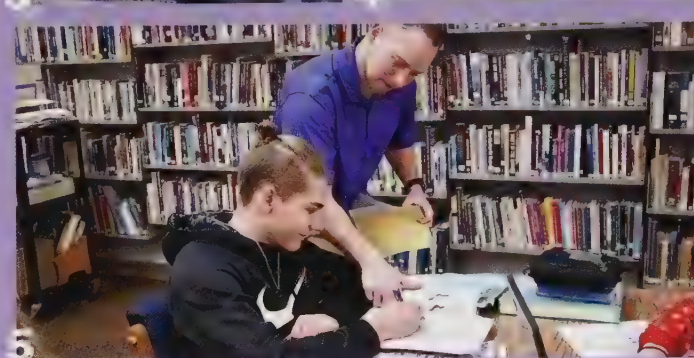

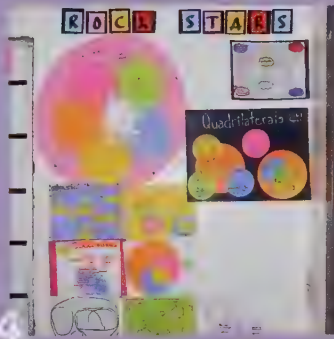

"MONEY, MONEY, MONEY."

MR. JANNUSCH

1. Tim Wierman looks on his Pre-Calc assignment.
2. So much for getting a head start on homework.
3. What happens when you give Mr.

Hackwith's distraction.
4. Geometry defined in a classroom.
5. Student Isaac Isaac Villanar with math.

"Math might as well be a foreign language—it rarely makes any sense to me."

Macen Fritz, 12

Biological

"To be honest, the purpose of studying biology is to make money."

-Mr. Porter

THE SCIENCES

SERENA MOHA, 10

"I want to be an engineer, so biological sciences don't really relate to what I want to do."

DUANE FALLS, 9

"Biology is my favorite class ever—Mr. Porter is absolutely hilarious!"

TIM WARREN, 12

"My favorite part of Anatomy and Physiology was when [Porter] talked about swinging his kids around by the ankles."

LVANESSA TALANCON, 12

"Everyone is scared to take A&P, but . . . Mr. Porter makes it a lot of fun, especially when he includes his stories. I would recommend it with a 10/10. And dissecting different body systems is very interesting."

LIFE ON OTHER PLANETS:

"I've been learning about space. I think there might be aliens out there."

Josh Newton, 11

Scientists have become the bearers of the torch of discovery in our quest for knowledge.

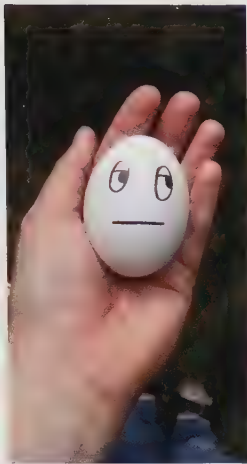

Stephen Hawking

Because learning by observation and experiment counts.

KORA CARELOCK, 9
"Physical Science is the only class I really learn things in. I like it because I learn things that will help me in the future."

REBECCA SPRENGELER, 12
"Physics is great and Mr. Bilyeu is a lot of fun. Where else can you catapult marshmallows and drop eggs?"

JACOB FOX, 9, "Mr. J is a pretty rad Kool Kat."

JOSH BRINKMAN, 9
"Physical Science is really cool because you learn about how everything is connected."

LEAH DURHAM, 12
"Physics is a hard course, but Mr. Bilyeu really makes it fun. Through all the work and tough concepts, I really enjoy the class."

Junior Josh Newton works on Science

Physical

"Learning about the physical sciences is important because it helps you describe how the world works."
-Mr. Bilyeu

NHS INDUCTION

"Academics are important because you understand the world better, and you get further in life. It's also an investment in yourself." - Rebecca

"If you succeed in academics, you can go to college and have a successful career and not be a loser." - Serena

"It helps me get to where I want to be in the future." - Leah

"Academics are important to me because they have helped me discover who I am and what I can do." - Isabella

"It's the only way to have a future." - Robert

"It helps me get into a good college and get a good job and get good money." - Blake

NHS Advisor

"It's a big honor to be a part of such a great group, and to be able to make a positive impact in our school and community."

- Mr. Edwards

Pillars

There are 4 pillars of NHS: Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character. Throughout high school, these students show these traits in everything they do.

How have the pillars of NHS helped you through high school?

"I suppose it has helped me to think of myself less and others more. It's a daily reminder to contribute what I can back into the community."

- Grace Travis, 12

"They have helped me by guiding me through high school with good morals."

- Catherine Tapales, 11

"Without these pillars, I would not have succeeded as much as I have now."

- Isabella Carr, 10

TOUGH team

Whatever happened through the Warriors' Football season, the fans always came out and cheered their hearts out. Without the community and support, there would be no Warrior football.

Warrior Quotes

Jake Mierwa runs a pass downfield before he gets tackled by Caden.

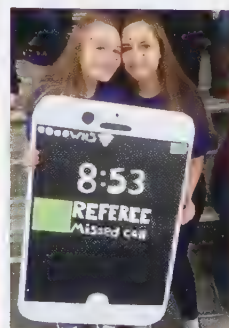

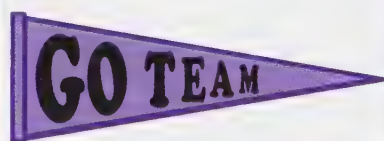

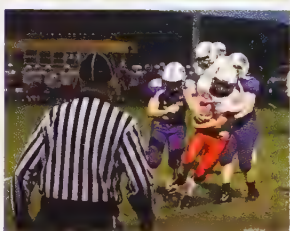

What is your favorite memory? "When Caden Hans was giving a speech about how Mark Warren should be a captain and Mark's pants were on backwards." Kaleo Kapua, #58

What was the funnest thing to happen during a game? "Me and Dozer's touchdown celebration in the endzone." Cam Martinez, #1

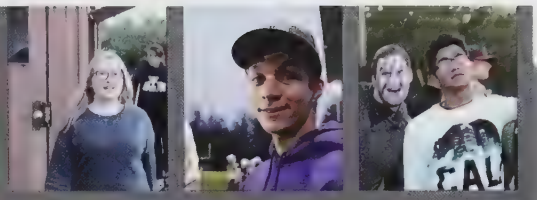

What will you miss about this season the most? "The group of guys on the team this year." Colin Birchell, #11

CLUBS >>

Because getting involved counts

THE SCHOOL OF ROCK

The School of Rock is a club for learning to play guitar, bass and drums. The approach to technique is different than classical training as it focuses on the fundamentals of rock music without getting bogged down in the theory of classical guitar. There is a saying among veteran rockers, "three chords can make a career". Most popular rock and punk bands can fit their entire knowledge base of music theory on a sticky note. These kids came to rock! This club is a stripped down, hot-rodded approach to learning how to play the world's most popular instruments in the shortest amount of time.

KEY CLUB

The high school arm of the Kiwanis Club, Key club members raise money to serve those in need within our own community, as well as on a state level. This year the club cleaned up Camp Kiwanilong and provided Christmas gifts for a needy family.

COMMUNICARE

The CommuniCare program provides an environment where young adults learn about the needs of their communities through grantmaking and thus promote a long-term understanding and ethic of philanthropy and volunteerism. WHS students raise some of the money--such as with Scary Movie Night, above--and are endowed with certain funds to use for grantmaking.

SURFING GROUP

Although not truly a club, the Surfing group--intigated by Mr. Klene--represents a dedicated mix of students and staff who love to hit the waves. If the weather is good and the waves are rolling in, you can hear these folks making plans to head out as soon as the bell rings.

WHAT'S YOUR FAVORITE PART ABOUT RIDING A MOTORBIKE?

"Growing up in the service and who I am as a person I enjoy having freedom."

STUDENT LIFE

Winter

WINTER WEEK

With Winter Break falling much later than usual (school wasn't out until December 23rd!), Winter Week allowed WHS to get a head start on holiday cheer. Santa made a visit to hand out gift cards (we had a new Santa this year--Lennie Wolfe has handed over the suit to Craig Horton), a cookie-making and decorating station was set up in McMakin's room, and there were assemblies and competitions sponsored by Student Council. Mr. Hackwith and his band even played. But it seems that everyone's favorite part of the week was the opportunity to dress up.

PJs and hats
and ugly
sweaters,
oh my!

Favorite Part of the Week?

"Ugly sweater day because it's not a tradition in Poland"
-Zosia Koronkiewicz

"My favorite day was pajama day because I got to wear warm clothes all day and be lazy."
-Evan Hatt

"Ugly sweater day because my grandma let me wear her sweater."
-Jessica Buoy

...and they were all very happy to see the students all in their pajamas. The students were all very happy to see the students all in their pajamas. The students were all very happy to see the students all in their pajamas.

Sponsored by the National Honor Society, the S' Winter Dance raised money for Communicare. Although this Winter was mild, getting tropical did allow students to at least pretend there would be sunny days ahead.

Winter Drama Production ONCE UPON A MATTRESS

The story of a princess and a pea

"I . . . I . . . I can!
And I've got a lot to say!
Unhand the boy!"

King Sextimus
(Blake Leitch, 10)

"Sir Harry . . .
You're a Fat-Head!"

The Minstrel
(Riley Mitchell, 10)

"Dauntless . . . Honey? You better start looking around for a small kingdom for us.
I've got a feeling we're not gonna want to live with the in-laws."

Princess Winifred
(Gabby Brinkman, 12)

SENIORS in the Drama class are quick to point out that "Once Upon a Mattress" is a play uniquely suited to the personalities and skills of their class. Matt Duncan--who be travelling to New York City next Fall to attend AMDA (the American Musical and Dramatic Academy)--was an engaging Prince Dauntless (Matt whines so well!); Leah Durham's portrayal of Queen Aggravain was superb (Leah seems so shy and positive in "real" life), Matt Burgher and Kara Dowaliby were fun as Sir Harry and the Jester and Trinity Womack's damsel in distress presentation of Lady Larkin was well executed. And of course, Gabby Brinkman's rendition of Princess Winifred was so believable that we may never look at her the same way again. Thank you, Mr. Hackwith, for choosing such a perfect play!

"Mama, when am I going to get my princess?" (PRINCE DAUNTLESS)

QUEEN AGGRAVAIN
"That's what you really want, isn't it? Someone like me? Oh God, if I were only twenty years younger!"

(Leah Durham, 12)

SIR HARRY
"Why should we both suffer just because you had a moment of weakness?"

(Matt Burgher, 12)

LADY LARKEN
"No, she's not pretty—she's beautiful!"
(Trinity Womack, 12)

IN ADDITION TO SENIORS, WHS Drama draws upon the exemplary talents of many other students, including Paddy McCargish (the wizard), Riley Mitchell (the Minstrel), and of course, Blake Leitch--the silent but memorable King Sextimus.

NO PRODUCTION can succeed without the talent and skill of those who give their all to the many minor parts that hold the play together. That was especially true of this production. Although the yearbook will not be able to cover the Spring production--"Bye, Bye Birdie"--that musical will certainly highlight the skills and personalities of the students in the Drama class.

¡Porque el lenguaje cuenta!

Spanish class is an awesome class to help students learn a new language and open up more opportunities for travel, jobs, and making new friends. It helps some kids understand more about their culture in Mexico. Mr. Edwards is a great Spanish teacher because he is really funny and social while teaching us more than just the how to say things. Students learn about holidays, cultures, and how people in Spanish-speaking countries live their daily lives.

La clase de español es una clase asombrosa para ayudar a los estudiantes aprender una nueva lengua y abrir más oportunidades para viajar, crear empleos y hacer nuevos amigos. Ayuda a los niños a entender más sobre la cultura en México, el Sr. Edwards es un gran maestro de español porque es muy divertido y sociable, además de hacer que su clase sea divertida, y nos enseña más que solo el idioma: vacaciones, la cultura y cómo viven sus vidas diarias.

ART

Art class is a time for students to show their creative side and let go a bit. Students get to enjoy Mr. Vollner or "Soccer Dad" class while he jokes about student's tears and fairy farts, teaches how to do a Zentangle, how to shade, and how to show values in drawings. You might be asked to take a cup and make it into an amazing sculpture. Mr. Vollner shows how to do amazing art while throwing a bit of history into the art projects while also having a lot of fun."

Because creativity counts

Elena Martinez, 10

Q: What is your favorite part about art class?

A: The fact that it's at the end of the day. Like after 7 hours of school work, you can just chill and do some art.

Hunter Brisendine, 11

"This class is all about getting students to think critically and creatively and approach things in new and different ways."

The job fair was a success. It was a fun evening, a good opportunity for students to get a head start on their future careers. The fair was held at the Clatsop County Career Center, and it was a great opportunity for students to meet with local employers and learn more about the job market.

JOB FAIR

Students have an opportunity to dress the part and put themselves out there as they meet with local employers at CCC

"The job fair was a lot better this year than in years past. The location was better and there were more employers. And playing with plumbing was fun."

THOUGHTS ON THE SEASON

"It was a super fun season and I had a really good time. I was proud about going farther than last year." —Maria Heggen, 11

"I am so proud of my team and what we have accomplished throughout the years. I'm gonna miss you guys." #8112 Tyia Little 12

"Basketball was great this year but hopefully we will work even harder to win State next year." Fernanda Alvarez, 11

Because the big picture counts

A single game never tells the story of an entire season, even when that game is a "final" bid for the State competition. And despite their loss in overtime, the playoff game between the Warriors and LaSalle brought out the true warrior in the girls. In fact, the Lady Warriors played so hard that they earned the "at large" ranking that put them at the State competition.

"Twitter, snapchat, facebook, and instagram represent a new way of socializing with friends and family. It certainly is not what high school social life looked like at WHS in 1918--or even 1990. Social media first appeared in 1997 with SixDegrees; facebook took off in 2007, closely followed by twitter, instagram, and snapchat. In 2012 snapchat lauched a new feature: snapchat filters, which allows people to change their appearance. More than ever, social media allows you to (re)create yourself, trying out different personas to see how many "likes" you can collect.

WHS Fisheries

Because the local fishing industry counts

Over 20,000 fish survived to have their fins clipped by the Fisheries students. At the end of every year, the Warrenton High School Fisheries class release the salmon they raised into the Skipanon. Family, friends, and community members come and are able to release a bucket of salmon into the skipanon. For this special occasion, members of the class build the 'Salmon Cannon.' For the past three years, Brandon Williamson has been the designer of the most creative salmon slides into the water and freedom.

Science -- Technology -- Engineering -- Mathematics

Trial and Error: Students in STEM build and test, revise and test, fix and test over and over again until they create what they hope will be the winning ROV during competition.

Because persistence counts (and counts, and counts)

STEM class is a robotics elective. The goal of the class is to give the students a better and more hands-on understanding of electronics by building an R.O.V (remote operated vehicle) which will be put through an operating test at the end of the term and must complete multiple tasks to pass.

Why STEM?

MS. MARCHELLO

1. Homecoming

School Spirit, costumes, competitions, a semi-formal dance—the members of Student Council work tirelessly during Homecoming Week to make sure that the school starts with a sense of community and spirit.

2. Food Drive

Keeping a sense of community positive and strong means making sure that all families can have enough. Student Council works with the Warrenton Fire Dept. to provide a Thanksgiving meal for as many area families as possible. Although a competition between classes, most realize that the event takes care of many of our own.

3. Blood Drive

Giving and doing good doesn't have to be about money, so Student Council provides an opportunity for upper classmen and faculty to provide a service for those in need that asks them to literally give of themselves.

4. Doernbecher Week

Given how many Warrenton students have benefitted from Doernbecher, this is an event that allows us to take care of both of our own and children all over the state. It also includes competition, fun, and a Sadie Hawkins dance.

5. School Spirit

Keeping the momentum —making school as positive and fun as possible —lightening the sometimes heavy academic load —celebrating success and participation—reminding us all what it means to be a Warrior: Student Council does it all!

Jo Armstrong

Hallie Mossman, 11

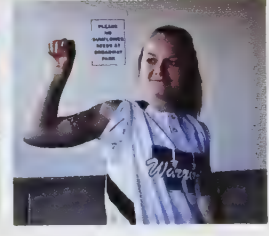

Stacy Miethe-Varsity Coach-describes the season this way:

"The 2018 season has had some ups and downs. Though the Varsity record may seem lackluster, it is because the Lady Warriors have played 4 of the top 5 teams in the state trying to be ready for their tough league schedule which begins against 3-time defending State Champs, Rainier.

On the other hand, the JV team has had an amazing start, going undefeated their first 6 games."

Best of luck, Lady Warriors!

HEAVY hitters

This year's team is not only hitting the ball and the weight room, they have worked on maintaining a positive attitude. Their dedication and hard work has certainly paid off.

FOR THE LOVE OF THE GAME

"You can't play scared, but you can't play dead either."
-Kaleo Kapua, 11

"I'm confident in our ability to win this season."
-Jake Morrow, 10

"I love the feeling of fielding the ball and getting a runner out."
-Austin Little, 10

"I think this season is gonna go really well because we've improved a lot."
-Devin Jackson, 10

"I'm excited for this season because I think we'll do way better than last year and have a winning season. We have a lot of talented players."

-Duane Falls, 9

"Overall I'm excited to see where this season takes us. We actually have enough players for a Varsity and JV team this year."
-Maverick Pedraza, 12

ST( )RY

"My least favorite memory of baseball is hitting my only homerun of the season, but it didn't count because the game got rained out and we had to cancel."

KALE'O KAPUA, 11

Because attitude counts

"This year is going to be a great one! We are way more focused than last year and have put in a lot of effort in these past weeks of practice. All of us have improved so much since last year and I'm excited to see this year's outcome."

-GABE BREITMEYER, 10

A GROWING TEAM

"People always think of golf as a nerdy sport, but it's really fun once you play it."
ALISSA HARDESTY, 9

The story here is growth. In 2014-15, five students participated in golf. The following year collected seven golfers and last year boasted eight, including one girl (Kara Dowaliby). None of those years had any frosh golfers. The 2017-18 team has 13 golfers, including 4 girls and 3 Freshmen.

Special thanks to Junior Sofia Morrill for the pictures.

ETHAN GREEN, 9
"My goal is to make Varsity."

MARA DOWALIBY, 10
"I want to be a professional golfer."

MATHEW WARREN, 12

NOW & LATER

Because 1918-2018—and the next 100 years—count!

As the final due date drew near, the Publications crew—pictured below—were out getting quotes, posing with folks who weren't in many pictures, and frantically putting together pages. Our goal this year was to make sure that every student at WHS was pictured in the yearbook at least 3 times. We were successful with 90% of the students, but there's always that 10%, it seems, who run, hide, or put the hands in front of their face. Hopefully we'll be more successful next year.

ADVICE TO MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR YOUTH

"Calm mind brings inner strength and self-confidence, so that's very important for good health."
—Dalai Lama

"A good laugh and a long sleep are the best cures in the doctor's book."
—Irish Proverb

"If you don't do what's best for your body, you're the one who comes upon the short end."
—Julius Erving

Write Here!

"The healthy, the strong individual, is the one who asks for help when he needs it. Whether he has an abscess on his knee or in his soul."
—Rona Barret
